

THE COWLICKS

Psychedelic Service Station

New release by the winners of The California Music Award for Outstanding Country / Alt-Country Album of 2004

"Is it possible to run a twangy Dobro sound backwards and blow folk's minds? The Cowlicks say "yes!" and prove it on the title track of their second album, Psychedelic Service Station...Throw in the occasional twangy retro country number or jangle-pop ditty and this Bay Area countrified skiffle group have whipped up a good time. And quite nice is the their roots-pop take on The Beatles' "Sexy Sadie" and the rollicking twang-spun cover of Alanis Morissette's "Hand In My Pocket" that bring the album to its heady conclusion.

-Robinson, Miles of Music

"I think this is the one that is going to push them into the bigtime. I hope so, they deserve it."

-Peggy O' of KFJC's "Out Behind the Barn"

"Psychedelic Service Station reminds me why I love these guys! Gram Parsons would be proud!"

-Wesley Robertson of KVMR's "Rockin' and Stompin"

More about The Cowlicks:

"This isn't just pure countrified roots music: the song writing is so good, and the playing so intense, you think you are hearing a rocker who could be the next Tom Petty...If Hank Williams & Tom Petty met got trashed, and ended up jammin, it might have come out like this."

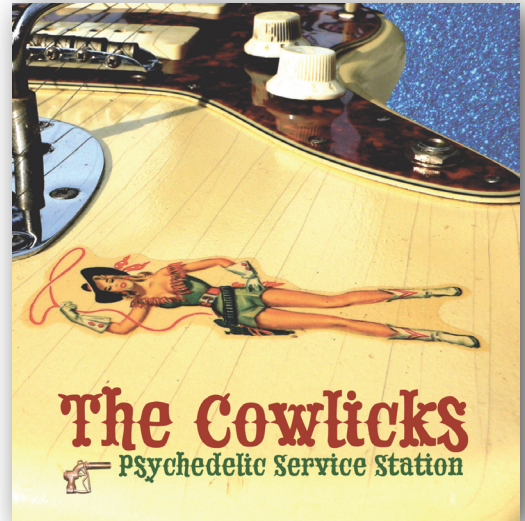

-Brad Kava, San Jose Mercury News

"The Cowlicks take the bull by the horns to corral a spot on the alt-country music map" -Rick DelVecchio, The San Francisco Chronicle

"A sweet slice of Byrds-flavored pie; classic/cosmic California tunefulness." -Eric Babcock, Catamount Records

The Cowlicks debut CD, "C.W.A.-Cowboys with Attitude" won the California Music Award for Outstanding Country/Alt-Country Album 2004 (formerly "The Bammies") beating out five other nominees including Merle Haggard and Buck Owens.

The band was voted "Best of the East Bay 2003" by the East Bay Express who state: "The Cowlicks ooze twang easily, and are unpretentious to a fault. They can write the catchy hell out of a song." The Cowlicks reside in the San Francisco Bay and include former members of The Schramms, The Big Blue Hearts, The Waybacks, The Dragsters, and Kevin Salem.
